

"I AM THE ONLY ONE WHO CAN AVERT A REVOLUTION"

So Says J. H. Thomas, Leader of Railroad Strike in Great Britain--But There Will Be Surrender Only Over His Dead Body--"Country Will Go to Smash" If Strike Continues Another Week.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 3.—J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen and the leader of Great Britain's greatest strike, today sent the following message to America:

"The same governmental spirit is operating now as operated in the invasion of Russia and the refusal to grant liberties to the people of Ireland.
"The same camarilla that has already outraged the sense of justice in these two matters is behind this attempt to crush trade unionism and bring down wages.
"I am profoundly satisfied there is danger of a revolution. I am the only one who can avert it. The government has demanded unconditional surrender. I would not see the men beaten and there will be unconditional surrender only over my dead body. If the strike continues for another week the country will go to smash.
"Delegates representing 5,000,000 trade unionists say we are right in rejecting unconditional surrender.
"That camarilla, to a certain extent, represents the last remains of British feudalism entrenching itself in the cabinet. Among them are examples of the sort of Englishmen, whose self complacency enables him to say that a small working class need not heed the perils in which they may place the nation.
"Since the Versailles treaty there has been a feeling that wages must be reduced and the American exchange rate must be raised. Unfortunately, they have endeavored to restore normal conditions by the worst possible means—by sacrificing the standard of life of the poorest workers.
"We are told by American trade unionists and employers alike, that, according to the American standard, the British worker is living under 'sweated' conditions which are breeding servility and which must be avoided at all costs.
"The government has made a miscalculation as to the British unionist movement. It is not led by extremists, but by men claiming a more real gift of statesmanship than the members of the present government. This is a trade union movement.
"Labor's support of the railwaymen is no surprise to those who know the government's employment of anti-union methods of propaganda and its own citizens would only affect those who are easily gullible or utterly ignorant of labor conditions.
"I want to tell you particularly that the government is tugging the people into false security. It is not men who are going back. It is the country that is going back. The wheels of production are running but slowly. Another week's lack of coal will slow down still further the already diminished activities."

BRITISH STRIKE STILL DEADLOCKED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 3.—Following the deadlock in the railroad negotiations, danger of a national strike again loomed up today. J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, declared that the deputations of eleven from the transport workers and allied unions "would unanimously support the railwaymen's refusal of the government's terms." This deputation is continuing its efforts at mediation, however.

Railway traffic is improving and more strikers continue to report for work, according to the following official communiqué, issued by the government at noon:
"No application has been received from the railwaymen for an interview. There is marked improvement in traffic, particularly in the handling of freight. More men are returning. Food stocks are at a sufficient level."
Despite the apparent dead lock in the strike situation and the announcement by J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, that the negotiations with Premier Lloyd George had broken down, the Central News stated authoritatively today that leaders of the transport workers believe they can bring the striking railwaymen in contact with the government for renewal of negotiations that may lead to a settlement.

The outcome of the present situation which has been precipitated by the breakdown of the negotiations with Lloyd George is obscure, but hope for a settlement by next week has not been abandoned.
The deputation of eleven transport workers renewed their efforts at mediation this morning. The deputation called upon Premier Lloyd George at his official residence in Downing street at 11 o'clock. It was said they "were still striving for a settlement."

The Daily Express estimates that the first week of the strike has cost approximately $5,000,000 in wages, loss of production and depression.
The Daily Mail expresses the opinion that "the strike is on its last legs," adding:
"The strikers have nothing to gain from prolonging it."
The Daily Telegraph in its comment said:
"The nation is determined to defeat the strike, as well as secure a settlement that is clean and just to the commonwealth as well as the men."

George Bernard Shaw, famous Irish essayist, has an ironical article in the Daily News. He says:
"Another strike or two on this scale and Premier Lloyd George, who always goes abroad to find out how to do things, will be in Moscow taking a few hints from Nicholas Lenin on the gentle art of pressing private capital and private labor into the public service."

Shaw suggests that:
If Premier Lloyd George's mind had not been recalled from the unnatural stretch of war into original suburban dimensions he would not talk like a Black Heath season ticket holder about making traffic pay. It is the business of traffic to make business pay.
When the delegation left the premier's residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon one member said:
"The situation is more hopeful."
While the delegates were on their way back to Caxton Hall three lorries filled with soldiers passed through Whitehall and were hissed by the crowds.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE.

Heating Before Judge Foster This Morning.
A hearing was held this morning before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler in the matter of search and seizure proceedings, and an order was signed for the taking and storage of a quantity of liquor which it is alleged excise men found at the Exchange Hotel in Saugerties. John F. Campbell appeared for the excise department.

Dwight McIntee, deputy county treasurer, testified that no certificate to sell liquor was in the possession of the proprietor. Excise agents testified that on September 7 they went to the hotel and purchased Rappert's liquor. At the time Ralph W. Renner was the proprietor of the business and since that time the proprietors have been changed. When the agents later went to the place and found 224 cases of liquor they found Charles H. Bennett the proprietor.
The seized liquor will be taken into custody and disposed of according to law.

STRIKE WILL SETTLE ITSELF

Judge Gary's Views Endorsed by Steel Operators in the Pittsburgh District—Strikers Make Complaints.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 3.—Judge Gary's flat statement to the senate investigating committee in Washington that "if you leave this situation alone, it will settle itself," summed up in ten words the attitude of the steel operators in the Pittsburgh district.
Judge Gary spoke, it was generally admitted in steel circles today, not only for the United States Steel Corporation, but also for the other big operators in this district, who are standing with and looking to the corporation for guidance in this district.
"This strike is not won yet," it was stated at one of the offices of a big concern today. "Nor will it be for some. We are making progress. We have made progress every day since September 22, when the strike was inaugurated."
So far no preparations have been made for the visit of the senate committee in Pittsburgh, except by the strikers' national headquarters. The strike leaders are busy getting affidavits and lining up the data of their side of the matter to present to Senator Keaton and his associates. The operators have generally done nothing. They are not absolutely certain that the committee is coming and they are uncertain what it will do if it does come.
Headquarters of the strikers assert that they are being seriously interfered with in their efforts to line up data for the committee. This is particularly true at McKeesport, it was stated, where late yesterday the police dispersed a meeting of strikers and closed the labor headquarters.

KING ALBERT SEES NEW YORK SIGHTS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 3.—King Albert of Belgium did the town "inco" last night and Queen Elizabeth went cabaretting. But despite his "night out" the king was up early this morning in his suite at the Waldorf, preparing to receive New York city's official welcome at City Hall from Mayor Hylan at noon.
Attired in a dark gray coat, blue trousers and a soft fedora hat, he sat on one side, wearing a stand-up collar with a black four-in-hand cravat. King Albert in company with Rear Admiral Andrew T. Long, wandered about Manhattan last night, taking in the sights along the White Way. He returned to his hotel at 12:45 a. m. and ten minutes later had retired.
And the queen, too, stayed out late. With the Baron and Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne and the Countess Christine de Caraman-Chimay, she visited a cabaret, staying through the entire performance. Few were aware of her identity. Queen Elizabeth and her party introduced to a motion picture theater on Broadway, but decided on the cabaret rather than suffer the inconvenience of the crowd waiting to enter.

FARMERS ARE WORRIED.

Claim Creamery at Hunter Over Them About $50,000.
Farmers in the vicinity of Windham, Lexington and Jewett are considerably wrought up over the fact that a creamery in Hunter, said to be operated by Max Blume of New York city, owes them something like $50,000 for milk. The creamery, it is said, has been holding back payments for six weeks and some of the farmers have from $200 to $400 coming to them.
The Dairyman's League of Hunter arranged to hold a meeting last Wednesday night to take some action in the matter. Mr. Blume sent Carl E. Davidson, his bondsman, to represent him at the meeting. On his arrival in Hunter, Davidson was recognized by A. H. Steenburgh, a former bondsman, who at once detected the reason for Davidson's presence in Hunter. Davidson went to McCrory's hotel and had his suitcase into an automobile near the hotel. He has not been seen since.

The dairyman's meeting was held as usual, Theresa La Roche presiding. No action, however, was taken, and it was decided to meet again tonight. The farmers feel, however, that they are up against it and stand to lose a good portion of the $50,000. On top of this, a notice has been posted in the creamery informing farmers that hereafter they will get 20 cents less a can for milk.

BERKMAN STARTS NEW CAMPAIGN

Released From Prison, Anarchist Who Opposed Draft Will Urge Release of All Political Prisoners.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 3.—Leaving Atlanta at 1:51 this morning, in company with his New York lawyer, Harry Weinberger, Alexander Berkman, anarchist and social agitator, a free man under $15,000 bond, is speeding toward New York today.
The ball was made of Liberty bonds deposited in Washington. Berkman had served two years in the federal prison here for interfering with the draft of soldiers at the outset of the war.
He intends to begin a campaign on his arrival in New York for the betterment of prison conditions and to make efforts to secure public favor for the immediate amnesty of all political and industrial prisoners in the United States.

OVER 38 INCHES OF RAIN SO FAR

During the 85 Rain Storms that Have Fallen From January 1 to September 1, According to Records of Water Department.

That the past summer has been a "wet" one is proven by the fact that from January 1 until September 30 there had been 85 rain storms with a rainfall of 38.16 inches, according to the records compiled by Superintendent Harrison, of the water department. The average rainfall for this section of the country is 44 inches, and with October, November and December to be heard from yet there is no doubt but the rainfall will be above the average for 1919.
At the water shed is kept an instrument for recording the rainfall. The records compiled show the following rainfall for each month from the first of the year to October 1:

January	2.90
February	2.81
March	5.53
April	3.17
May	6.47
June	5.43
July	4.61
August	5.66
September	38.16

The heaviest rainfall of the year was the storm of September 2 and 3, when a rainfall of 4.30 inches was recorded.

The number of rain storms by months follows:
January 7
February 7
March 10
April 10
May 16
June 16
July 15
August 12
September 8

For the first time in a number of years it has not been necessary to draw water from Cooper's Lake to supply the city, and the city has been supplied exclusively from Reservoirs Nos. 1 and 2.
Superintendent Harrison stated this morning that the reservoirs have been full and running over all year, except one week when the reservoirs were lowered 6 inches.
As undoubtedly there will be arguments later on as to the actual number of rain storms and the amount of water that fell, the reader would do well to clip this item from the paper and paste it in on the parlor wall, or frame it and hang it in the kitchen.
On one point, however, all will agree: there has been plenty of rain.

If the proposition is carried by the referendum, it may lead, it was stated, to the adoption of a strike policy by the union of postal employees, to enforce demands when less drastic methods fail.

I. W. W. STARTED THE STEEL STRIKE

Labor Leader Tighe Says I. W. W. Activity Made Postponement of Industrial Action Possible as Men Listened To Radical Appeals.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 3.—Efforts of the I. W. W. were partly responsible for the steel strike, Michael Tighe of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, told the senate investigating committee this afternoon.

"I. W. W. men were saying 'the A. F. of L. has soft-pedaled you again,'" said Tighe. "The men were beginning to listen to those appeals."
"It was this I. W. W. movement that made the postponement of the strike impossible, and this movement had to be offset," Tighe said. "The real reason for the strike, Tighe declared, was Judge Gary's refusal to give a conference to the union leaders."

The United States Steel Corporation "was the rear guard" in the procession of wages and working conditions, Tighe declared. Foreign labor was brought into the steel industry to lower wages.

Referring to Judge Gary's testimony, Tighe said:
"I am convinced that his statements were not made from first-hand knowledge. The difference between the facts as they are and as he stated them is as great as the distance between his office in New York and the steel plants."

Tighe declared that in 1901 the steel corporation had voted a fund of $20,000,000 for suppression of unions. Tighe said this fact had been divulged by a steel mill owner who was friendly to organized labor. "They made the same claim then, as they do now—that our organization did not represent the men," Tighe said.

"At union mills we have never given attention to what seems to be the paramount issue, so far as the corporation is concerned, the open and closed shop," he added.
Tighe went into great detail as to the history of attempts to organize steel workers.

Tighe read an advertisement which appeared in a Pittsburgh paper in 1909, calling for employees for the steel mills and which stated "Assyrians, Serbs and Rumanians preferred." This, Tighe said, was an example of how the steel corporation had taken foreigners into the industry in preference to Americans. Tighe declared that this was the reason that foreigners predominated in the steel industry now.

Daniel Reid, of the United States Steel Corporation, urged that the committee inquire whether Tighe could show that the advertisement was paid for or authorized by the steel corporation.
"Well, who would pay for that advertisement?" interjected Rubin, counsel for the strikers.
"I wouldn't speculate as to that," said Reid.
"Well, there is too much speculation on your side, anyway," retorted Rubin.

"Do you make the charge that there has been a constant increase of foreigners in the steel mills?" asked Senator Walsh, of Massachusetts.
"I do," replied Tighe.

KINGSTON B. S. L. HAS A FIELD DAY

Biggest Time He Has Had Since Over a Year Ago When He Reported the Crown Prince Captured.
The Busy Street Liar had the biggest field day today he has enjoyed since the time he had the Crown Prince and 450,000 men captured, something over a year ago. This time the President was dead and about 40 per cent of those who called up The Freeman office about the story started to put up an argument when told it was not true. As far as the origin of the story can be traced it goes like this:

A broker (name not given), who is stopping in Kingston called up his New York office (location not given) and was told that President Wilson was dead. Then, presumably, this broker began shouting the news from the housetops, although nobody can be found who heard him shouting.

Later the story was fortified by reports that all of the schools had received telegrams stating the President was dead. Of course the schools had received no such telegrams and would not receive them if the President were dead. Late this afternoon a number who asked about the story seemed willing to compromise on having the President either in a dying condition or being all cut to pieces by a battery of surgeons who were operating on him. Anyway, they said, the story came from New York so it through the Kingston Symphony Orchestra and was still going strong.

PRESIDENT IS A VERY SICK MAN

Condition is Unchanged, According To Afternoon Official Bulletin—Rumors of Impending Operation Are Not Verified.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 3.—"The president's condition is unchanged," said Rear Admiral Grayson's bulletin, issued from the White House this afternoon, following a consultation with Rear Admiral Sitt, of the naval hospital and Dr. Sterling Ruffin.

Dr. Grayson declined to comment on the bulletin, or to discuss the president's illness in any way. The last bulletin issued by Dr. Grayson, at 10 o'clock last night, stated that the president was "a very sick man." Reports of impending operations and of X-ray examinations continued to be circulated, but none of these brought forth any comment from the physicians.

Washington, Oct. 3.—There has been no improvement in the president's condition over night. It was stated at the White House today.
Rear Admiral Grayson's official bulletin on the president's condition had not yet been issued, however, at 10:30 a. m., as he was still in consultation with Rear Admiral Sitt of the naval department, called in the case yesterday.

The president is still confined to his bed, it was stated, and there are trained nurses in attendance. Mrs. Wilson is in constant touch with the president and caring for his every need.

The president has no fever, it was stated, and his heart action is perfect. These were taken as extremely favorable signs.

It was reiterated that the president's condition is due entirely to exhaustion of the nerves, and that the original program of complete rest and quiet will be adhered to.

Secretary Tamm let it be known today that he had informed the president of the ratification of the peace treaty by the French chamber of deputies yesterday, and of the defeat in the senate of the Fall amendments to the treaty. He told the president was greatly heartened by the news.
In the meanwhile, messages of sympathy are pouring down upon the White House from all corners of the globe. But a few of these have been communicated to the president up to the present time. It is understood among those who are in the confidence of the president are messages from President Poincaré and Premier Clemenceau of France. There has been a constant flow of callers at the executive offices to inquire about the president and prominent among these today was Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Bernard Baruch and Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

It was also stated that neither of the president's daughters, Mrs. William G. McAdoo and Mrs. Francis H. Sayre, who are due to arrive in Washington today, had been summoned. They expressed a desire to come here and were told they could, if they so wished.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, formerly Miss Jesse Wilson, left her Cambridge home today for the bedside of her father, President Wilson at Washington.

Her husband, who is an instructor at Harvard University, was scheduled to follow her later in the day. Mrs. Sayre left her home hurriedly, carrying only a hand bag.
The Sayre apartment is being renovated and it is understood that for this reason the children were visiting at the home of Mr. Sayre's parents in Amherst. Upon leaving, Mrs. Sayre told the men at work renovating that she was not sure when she would be back.

It is a part of your duty to become a part of the smaller ones of the country. The size of a group is of possible for music students to have such an opportunity as is afforded them through the Kingston Symphony Orchestra.

Corns, "Gets-It"

The Great Painless Corn Loosener.
Simple as A. B. C. Never Fails.

If you have ever tried to get rid of a corn by bandaging up your toe with bandages, or by using salve that made your toe red and almost raw, or tried to drag your corn out with a knife, there will be a surprise waiting for you when you use

"Gets-It." Imagine peeling your corn off gloriously, easily and painlessly, just like peeling off a banana skin.
Well, that is what happens when you use "Gets-It." There is nothing else that will give you this same result. Millions of folks have had the same blessed experience. Why putter and suffer, limp, and spoil a good time for yourself and your friends, or your peace of mind while trying to attend to business? Use
"Gets-It," the simplest common-sense way
"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed,

You can maintain an even fire at any desired speed. Ashes will not accumulate and clink-

there's an inbuilt clinker bar

GRAND JURY MAKES REPORT

Indictment Found Against Italian Who Hit Mrs. Cloni—Eight Sealed Indictments Handed Down.

The grand jury in attendance at Trier county court, Trier 1, Rifenbary, foreman, today at noon handed down its findings after investigating 17 cases brought before it during the past three weeks. Eight sealed indictments were handed up.

In the matter of Louis Monatone, held for assault on Mrs. Cloni, of this city, no indictment was found. A similar report was made in the case of The People against Philip Fraser and Benjamin Betts charged with assault.

An indictment of grand larceny in the first degree was found against Patrick Moran, committed to the town of Shandaken, March 15, 1919. He pleaded not guilty, and said he wanted counsel. The court stated he would assign counsel later.

Joseph Konek and Frank Odell pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree, committed in the town of Shandaken. They will be sentenced some day next week.

George Upright and Louis Dietrich, indicted for exposing poison and chemicals to cattle in the town of Wawarsing, on May 22, 1919, were told to stand up and plead. Upright pleaded guilty, and Dietrich not guilty, who said he wanted a counsel. The court stated he would appoint a counsel later and that the plea of Upright would be acted upon later.

David Moseley, indicted for grand larceny in the second degree in stealing an automobile in the town of Marlborough, on July 30, 1919, pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced next week.

Foreman Rifenbary said the grand jury desired to compliment Sheriff Smith and the attaches of the court house for the excellent condition of the jail. The jury handed in besides the resolution complimenting the sheriff, a request that the court use its efforts to improve the condition existing in the kitchen where the sink needs to be enlarged and improvements made to make the place sanitary.

The grand jury was discharged with the thanks of the court by Judge Fowler, who complimented the jurors for the speedy work in investigating the large number of cases, especially as many of the jurors had been called from their business to do their duty.

County court then took a recess until October 7th at 2 p. m., when sentences will be imposed and the criminal calendar taken up.

PASSPORTS FOR ALL IMMIGRANTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Passports for all immigrants is the chief provision of a bill soon to come before the house immigration committee. The measure will require all aliens coming to this country to be provided with passports, duly made out by the authorities of the country of which the alien is a citizen, or subject, and vided by the American representative in that country.

If the alien is coming on business or for a visit, a time limit for stay in the country will be fixed. If he plans to make this country his home, he will be required to make a declaration of purpose on landing, and if no information is made within a given time to comply with other requirements for citizenship in the United States, he shall be deported. It is expected also that the bill will either prohibit all immigration for a period of years—two, three and four year periods being under consideration—or will carry other restrictive features in addition to those of the existing law, so as to make admission most difficult. The present sentiment in committee is to include in the bill a provision for rigid exclusion of all Asiatic immigration. Many Pacific coast witnesses who have appeared before the committee have alleged that the Japanese authorities are not observing in good faith the gentlemen's agreement with this country in the matter of prohibiting Japanese laborers from coming to the United States, and that hordes of Japanese are coming in under passports issued them by the Japanese officials and are being smuggled in by various methods.

Ellenville. Oct. 3.—Miss Josephine Fater, who has been with the New York Telephone Company in the Ellenville office the past year and for several years in charge of the local district, has tendered her resignation. Miss Fater is one of the popular young ladies, a daughter of Postmaster Fater and Mrs. Fater, who reside on Park street.

William Soller, who recently purchased the residence of R. S. Thornton on Center street, already has men at work on the foundation for a two-story concrete building, 20x42, to be erected on the western side of the lot. It will be used for his mattress business and for a furniture store.

John T. Smith of New York is spending a month's vacation with his children at his mother's on Circle avenue.

Louise Smith and family will occupy the residence of Mrs. E. J. Bailey during the winter season.

Mrs. George Ross has returned from a trip to the Adirondacks where she spent a week with her husband, who has been there the past four months. Mr. Ross and Mr. Reynolds of Maple Ave., who have been there for some months, were found in good spirits and regaining their health.

Mrs. Ross was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Edward Glennon and the ladies had an enjoyable trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smiley are spending week-ends at their home on Church street. The boarding season at Minnewaska closed Wednesday.

William A. Heath, the local retail oil delivery man, has given up the business and will take a position in the knife factory north to the regret of many householders.

Mrs. Keiser, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Keiser, has entered Hartwick Seminary.

Wilson R. Denman, who has been ill a long time, was sufficiently improved in health to attend the "World's Fair" at Grahamsville, his old home town on Wednesday. He went with Henry F. Shorter by automobile.

Mrs. Catherine VerNoy of Middle-town is visiting her nephew, Charles Van Keuren, at Green Acres.

Mrs. DuBois Delaney of Hickory street is on a visit with friends in New York.

Rev. H. G. Corleis and Mrs. Corleis of Liberty have been spending some days in Ellenville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Miller on Warren street.

A. J. Hall of Johnstown, Pa., is renewing old friendships in Ellenville after a number of years absence.

Miss Irene DeVany of New York is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. DeVany.

E. H. Cornelia, the main street restaurant proprietor, and Raymond Warner of the Electric Company force are on an automobile trip to Niagara Falls.

Miss Dorothy Vernon has come to Baltimore to enter Goucher college.

Nial Marikie of Poughkeepsie is spending some days with Ellenville relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Odenbroun have gone to Honesdale for a two weeks' visit with Mrs. Odenbroun's sister, Mrs. Charles Cade and family and will attend the Wayne county fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nisbet of Fairland will reside at Syracuse where their son, Paul Nisbet, holds a fine position.

Henry F. Hoombeck, as executor of Alpharetta Dupuy's estate, has sold the residence on Hickory street to Charles H. Hubert of the local Telephone Company.

Mrs. Mary Wegler has closed her home on Canal street and returned to Brooklyn for the winter.

Miss Clara Hase has been spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Neal Kase and family.

W. T. Chester, the mountain photographer, has closed his studio in Nichols cottage at Greenfield and after spending a few days with Joseph Merritt and family in Ellenville will go to Cleveland, O., where he will engage in the photography business.

A brass memorial tablet presented by the congregation has been placed in St. John's Episcopal Church this week. Inscribed as follows: "In memory of Charles M. Butterfuss, vestryman 1884-1913; for forty years uniting in his love and zeal for this church. Died July 25th, 1913."

There will be no services in the Lutheran Church Sunday, October 5 and 12. The pastor will take a two weeks' vacation.

The first Methodist Church in this valley was established at Phillipsburg one hundred years ago and when a meeting was held in a barn in 1819 for organization of the church building was erected later.

On Wednesday, October 13, the church will hold a fitting celebration of the 100th anniversary with a reunion of the living former pastors, speeches and a supper. Attorney H. W. Coons is to make the historical address.

Finds Eggs Eighty Years Old. Eggs believed to be more than eighty years old were discovered by workmen who were making alterations in an old home at Fayette City, Pa. The eggs were found in a nest between rafters on the second floor. It is thought they were laid while the house was being constructed. They were blackened from the dust of years.

The above map shows the territory in Dalmatia which American troops were ordered to patrol in an agreement made at Paris. The landing of an American naval force at Trau several days ago was the sign for a rapid discussion in the United States senate. The troops are to operate under the direction of the Inter-Allied Council, on which the United States is represented. The Dalmatian Coast is enemy territory and was taken from the government of Austria-Hungary under the terms of the armistice.

The report that Postmaster General Burleson sent his Chinese cook to help sort mail in the post office prompted the inquiry why he wasn't sent to participate in the peace conference?

The following advertisement was noted in the offerings of a popular drug store system recently: "Special assortment hair brushes from Royal brush factory, Osaka, Japan." Just a little reminder of the Democratic reduction in the tariff on brushes. And we have numerous factories in this country seeking increased opportunities in the domestic market for products which require the labor of Americans.

President Wilson calls the League of Nations an "enterprise of Divine mercy." The Declaration of Independence closes with the words, "With a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor." The history of the United States thus far indicates that that reliance was well placed, and the people will be slow to believe that the Almighty has withdrawn His protection from the principles of that Declaration in favor of a pact that destroys their very essence.

When Congress met to honor General John J. Pershing the Democrats were conspicuous for their absence in official welcome. Vice-President Marshall, who was supposed to be present to speak for the Senate, was on a vacation enjoying the hot air of Atlantic City, so that Senator Albert B. Cummins, president pro tempore, had to make the official Senate welcome. Speaker Frederick C. Olcott made a masterful address like the Democrats were heard from former Speaker Champ Clark, whose speech failed to evoke much interest. The absence of Mr. Marshall brings to mind the story of the man who had two sons. One of them became a sailor and the other vice-president. He hasn't heard from either of them since.

A PHARAOH'S MANY RAZORS.

American archaeologists returning from the scene of their excavations in Egypt report among the personal belongings of King Menepthah the largest collection of razors ever seen anywhere. Whether they also found gold filigree in the teeth of Menepthah's mummy is not stated, but such indications of highly developed dentistry among the ancient Egyptians have been previously reported. King Menepthah's remarkable accumulation of razors—without any need of preparation against a barbers' strike—is but one of many indications of a high state of civilization in almost prehistoric times. The ancients not only shaved and otherwise took good care of their persons, but they had a keen appreciation of the difference between razors in good shape and those in the need of sharpening. It is known that one of the punishments they inflicted upon a convicted culprit was to cause him to be shaved with a dull razor.

We involuntarily think of the crude habits of life obtaining in the less remote dark ages of Europe as having prevailed all the way back to the earliest morning of time, but this is a great mistake. While the cave man went out to kill with his spear and axe in some parts of the ancient world, in other parts a relatively gentle and highly civilized people lived in the midst of refinements and good advanced laws. When the State of Georgia enacted a "chivalry law" a few years ago it was spoken of as something entirely new in legal annals. Yet the code of King Minos, remarkable as it seemed over 2,000 years ago, provided for the punishment for any man who circulated an ill report about a woman without just cause. It is interesting that such a man be "thrown down before the judges and hanged on the forehead." There is nothing particularly new under the sun.

SIXTY YEARS A SINGER.

One need not be a grand singer in order to have heard the wonderful voice of Adelina Patti, who died the other day at her estate in Wales. For though she lived in the 50s and made her debut here in 1870, she continued to sing even in opera, until 1898 and was heard in concert until 1906. The explanation is that Patti began to sing as a child prodigy of seven, became a concert singer at twelve, and was an opera singer of wide fame before she was twenty. In further explanation of her phenomenally long reign on the lyric stage it is stated that she wisely declined to overtax her voice or to assume unsuitable roles at the demand of changing fashions or temporary fads.

When, for example, German opera came to the fore, and Wagner's music-dramas won the attention of the musical world, Patti merely smiled contentedly and went on singing the tuneful and brilliant Italian operas in which she had achieved such great success. She may have agreed that Wagner's productions were marvelous in their way, but she doubtless took note that they required 250-pound singers with the wind of a great bellows and lungs of a Stentor, but with a beautiful voice, marvelously sweet and true as well as of great range. Patti was admirably fitted to sing Italian operas and she had the good sense to stick to them. Critics say she had not the "opulence" of Melba at her or the "incomparable brilliancy" of Tetrazzini, but she had an exquisite voice and she reigned a queen—the diva—until the end of her long prime.

HEALTH MEETINGS HERE NEXT WEEK

Veneral Diseases Will Be Discussed by Dr. A. R. Guerdard of State Department and Dr. Mary Gage Day of This City.

The United States bureau of the public health service and the state department of health will unite in a series of meetings to be held in this city at which the important public health matter of venereal diseases will be discussed. The meetings will begin on Monday and continue through Friday. It is expected that factory meetings will be held in many of the manufacturing plants of the city. There will be separate gatherings for men and women. The men's meetings will be addressed by Dr. Arthur R. Guerdard, a lecturer connected with the venereal disease bureau of the state health department. Dr. Mary Gage Day of this city will speak to the women.

The arrangements for the meetings are in charge of Mayor Canfield, and have been undertaken that the men and women of this city may be put in possession of the true facts about these diseases, about which the truth is too little spoken. The meetings will culminate in a large public meeting to be held for women on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, and one for men on Friday evening at 8 in the same place. Admission to both of these meetings will be free.

This series of meetings is part of the pretentious program in which the United States and New York state health authorities are uniting to give the people of this state the same facts about these diseases which have been given them about tuberculosis and smallpox, that they may understand the prevalence, dangers and contagiousness of them. These diseases have always existed, and probably are not any more prevalent now than they ever have been. We only know more about them. Previous to the war it was not possible to gather any real facts about the number infected with these diseases but the war by means of the draft with the necessary physical examinations of large bodies of men enabled the gathering of statistics about them. It was found that they were more prevalent than was generally supposed. It was also found that they were not confined to the large cities, as some had thought, but that each section of the country; the larger cities, the smaller towns and villages and even the country districts produced proportionately as large a number of cases. It was also found that they were not confined to any one class of people. All sections and all classes were represented. During the war the war department protected the men after they came into the army, and instructed them about the seriousness of these diseases, and what infection with them meant with the result that the number of cases were greatly reduced. Only one man contracted one or the other of these diseases after entering the army to five men becoming infected in civil life. This proved that this was a problem which should be brought to the attention of civilians, and a large sum of money was appropriated by congress for education about this type of infection. A portion of this money was divided among the states, each state being required to appropriate an amount equal to its share of the federal appropriation. This money is being used to educate the public by means of lectures, similar to those to be given in this city next week, by men and women physicians, the showing of moving pictures which vividly portrayed the ravages of the diseases, and the free distribution of pamphlets and other literature. Doctors and nurses are being kept informed about the most recent methods of diagnosis and treatment and cities are being assisted in the establishment of clinics where persons infected, who can not afford to pay for blood tests and the somewhat expensive treatment, may have them free of charge. The state even furnishes some of the drugs which are necessary upon request of the city health officer or board of health. A number of the clinics have been established in this state, including one in Kingston, and are daily treating a large number of patients. New laws also have been provided by the legislature which make it possible to isolate infected persons, who may be deemed a menace to the public health, until they are cured. It is also possible to examine men and women who are arrested for vagrancy or the infraction of certain other laws to see whether or not they are infected.

The whole program has been carefully thought out, and is already showing results which prove it to have been well worth while.

ITALIANS COMING BACK.

Those Who Went to Italy are Bitterly Disappointed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 3.—Profiteering in Italy, national unrest and the prospect of a bitter winter in the northern part of that country are given as the reasons for the return to America of more than 300 Italians all traveling steerage, who are today in New York after landing from the Dante Alighieri. They are the vanguard of hosts of Italians who sailed from America with their families and their savings as soon as possible after the armistice was signed. They prophesy their disappointed countrymen will fill America-bound ships for months to come.

CANT RAKE HAY WITH A PACER

Says Mr. Cunningham Defending Suit Brought Against Him in City Court by Louis Basch—An Interesting "Hoss" Case Is Tried.

During the past summer Edward Cunningham of the Kiersted farm decided that he would need the services of a horse to help out in the haying season, and he entered into negotiations with Louis Basch, the local horse dealer, to supply him with the necessary animal. As a result an interesting "hoss" case had a hearing in city court today before Judge Schirrick.

Mr. Basch, who was represented by Chris. J. Flanagan, claimed that the agreement for the rent of the horse was to be $1 a day and keep, and that horse was kept by Mr. Cunningham for 22 days, and that when he went to collect from Mr. Cunningham the latter offered him $6 in payment, claiming that the agreement was $1 a day and board when the horse was worked, and that due to the rain he only worked the horse for the six days he wanted to pay for. Mr. Cunningham was represented by Frank W. Brooks.

Mr. Basch in testifying in his own behalf outlined the agreement made with Mr. Cunningham from his standpoint of $1 a day and keep. In reply to question by Mr. Brooks he stated that the first horse was only kept at the farm for about nine days. At that time Charles Fisher of First avenue wanted to swap horses with him, and he told Fisher he had a horse at Cunningham's place and to go and look the animal over and if he liked it to exchange horses.

This Mr. Fisher did, and the next day Mr. Cunningham called up Basch and stated that the horse Fisher left was of no use in haying, and that he immediately hitched up another horse and drove to the farm and made an exchange of horses again.

Mr. Cunningham in his own behalf entered a counter claim of $5 for pasturing a cow owned by Basch for twenty-one days, for which he wanted $5. There was no dispute about the cow being at the Cunningham farm that length of time.

Mr. Cunningham then related the deal he had made with Mr. Basch, and according to his side of it he was to pay $1 a day when the horse worked and to board the animal. The great trouble according to Mr. Cunningham was the fact that Mr. Basch did not leave a horse with him long enough to get any real work out of the animal but was swapping them off and in the twenty-two days he had three horses from Basch.

The first horse he only had two days when Mr. Fisher came and got it and left a pacer in its place. He said that he tried the pacer out on the hay rake, but that the pacer could not rake hay. He also said that Basch was only using him to furnish pasture for Basch's horses and when they got fattened up a little he would swap them off and leave another horse for him to use. Due to the fact that he could not use a pacer for haying and the other exchanges in horses, and also to the rain he had only obtained six days' work out of the horses Basch had furnished him with.

Judge Schirrick at the close of the case decided Basch was entitled to the $6, and also allowed Cunningham's counter claim for pasturing the cow of $5, which left $1 which Cunningham paid Basch before leaving the court room.

FORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Oct. 3.—The following people were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Dorr on Stout avenue on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dunn and daughter, Bessie; Mrs. M. Fahrrich and son, Frank; Mr. and Mrs. J. Myers and son, all of Kingston.

Mid week prayer services will be held in the Reformed and Methodist Churches this evening at 7:30 o'clock. An illustrated stereoscopic picture of "The Tares and the Wheat" will be shown and explained in the Methodist Church. Every one invited.

A great many from this place witnessed the welcome home celebration to our boys Wednesday. The parade was good, the music fine and there was a splendid showing of the soldiers.

Jack Roulier, who has been employed by Ernest Hutchings as teamster, has resigned his position.

Rally day will be observed next Sunday morning in the Sunday School of the Reformed Church. An interesting program has been arranged and all who attend the rally will be presented with a souvenir. A prize is to be awarded the class having the best attendance. Sunday school begins at 9:30 in the morning. Also beginning next Sunday, the little cross and crown pin will be commenced. All scholars are eligible and each one completing successfully will receive the gold pin. A special meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school has been called for Thursday evening after the prayer service.

Boys of this village are requested to heed the signs on the Gillsinger property on Salem street.

Special Music at Trinity.

A special musical service will be held at Trinity M. E. Church on Sunday evening. A fine program has been prepared and will include a male quartet selection and a number of solos.

LADIES AUXILIARY OF HOSPITAL

Held Annual Meeting. Officers Are Re-elected and Report of Secretary Presented.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the City of Kingston Hospital was held on Tuesday afternoon at the hospital. Election of officers for the coming year resulted in the re-electing of all the present incumbents as follows: President, Mrs. Charles Tappen; vice presidents, Mrs. T. J. Hickey and Mrs. G. D. D. Hasbrouck; treasurer, Mrs. C. E. Hasbrouck; secretary, Mrs. George F. Chandler. The president appointed a purchasing committee with Mrs. James E. Low, chairman, and Mrs. Richard Tappen and Mrs. Viola Bishop. Policies for the coming year were discussed and some plans laid which will be made public later.

The annual report of the secretary gave a history of the past year's work done by the organization, and such parts of this as are of interest to the public are here given:

The Ladies' Auxiliary has had a quiet year of work and service. We have asked the public for nothing and given to the full measure of our financial ability.

Never in the history of the hospital has the auxiliary supplied during one year such quantities of things as our records show from September, 1918, to September, 1919. This is due, of course, to the increased number of beds now in the institution and the great number of patients cared for. The supply of material must necessarily keep pace with the work accomplished. A comparison of our report with the report of the superintendent will show that we have done this. Our supplies this last year have not only filled the wants of the wards but of the private rooms.

From September, 1918, to September, 1919, the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital furnished to the institution the following finished articles: 200 full sized sheets, 56 crib sheets, 197 pillow cases, 158 bath towels, 195 huck towels, 72 plaid towels for patients, 43 shrouds, 54 night shirts, 14 shirts for infants, 10 outing flannel slips, 12 outing flannel kimono, 74 night gowns, 28 infants' diapers and 6 pieces of diapering unhemmed, 11 blankets, 36 counterpanes. Also 143 yards of dish toweling unhemmed, screen covers, hot water bottle covers and pillows.

The increased cost of every sort of material, together with the large quantity required, have made tremendous inroads in our finances. Bound by an agreement with the war chest, we have not given any entertainment during the past year, nor have we conducted any campaign for membership.

Aside from the furnishing of the supplies, the auxiliary has interested itself the past year with several important changes in hospital policies. We have lost by death during the year two good friends, Mrs. Julia Dillon, the first president of the auxiliary, died in January. Her name is indissolubly linked with the early efforts of the organization when it was known as the "Ladies Aid Society," and she maintained her interest in the work until the day of her death.

No less a loss to us was the departure from this life of Mrs. S. D. Cuykendall, who was one of the earliest members of the auxiliary and whose generosity in building the Nurses' Home gave the institution a tremendous forward movement. She was also a liberal giver to the building fund.

In this, our first annual report since the great war ended, we are proud to note that our hospital has on its staff now six doctors who were in the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army. Of these, Dr. Loughran and Dr. Sargent saw service on the other side. The others are Dr. Johnson, Dr. Chandler, Dr. Stelle, Dr. Maben. The gold star on our service flag for Dr. Frank Keator will not be forgotten.

Miss Ednah Smith, who left her duties as head nurse to go to service in France, will be back in the hospital October 1st as superintendent. She comes to her work here fresh from her varied experiences of an army hospital and will give special attention to the training school.

We feel indebted for much help during the past year to the "Henrietta Wynkoop Guild" for making numerous baby layettes and to the Fuller Shirt Factory and the Fessenden Shirt Factory for cutting and making six dozen garments each for the hospital. Also to Morris Block for cutting out numberless garments for the wards.

It is impossible to mention by name the individual members of this organization who have worked many hours for the hospital in making garments, hemming sheets, mending linen, or with gifts of money or materials to further our work. It is such members as this that form the fundamental structure of the auxiliary, that hold it together and keep it what we aim to be—a tower of strength to the institution of which we are all so proud.

MARTHA S. CHANDLER,
Secretary.

Locust Site Fatal.
The site of a 12-year locust caused the death of the two-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kunkel, Kempton, Pa. The injury was discovered when the mother went to the infant's crib to the nursery. The baby's face was swollen. The mother picked up and found the locust in the clothing. Physicians worked over the child for several hours in a vain effort to save his life.

The Foe to Flat Feet

"Ease-All"
Shoe for Women

PAINS in the foot, calf of leg, knee, back or head in nine cases out of ten can be traced to flat feet.

To regain health the obvious answer is to correct the flat feet.

The only way to do this is to elevate the displaced bones to their natural position and maintain them there until beneficent Nature restores them to their former strength.

The only logical shoe for correcting flat feet is the "EASE-ALL."

It has an unbreakable built-in arch support and counters double the ordinary length, bracing the foot from both sides.

The "EASE-ALL" actually corrects flat feet.

The Proper Way of Bringing Up Children Discussed—It's Funny but Generally Those Without Children Have Most Decided Opinions.

"Believe me," observed the customer this morning, "but if I had a child I'd bring it up right so that it would know that when I said no I meant no."

"Huh," grunted the busy barber, "and what you say reminds me of the fact that every time I hear some people talk about bringing up children I wonder where they get that stuff."

"What do you mean?" asked the customer indignantly.

"Just what I said," replied the barber, "for nine times out of ten those who have such decided opinions never had a child, and don't want any."

"Just because I have none don't say I don't know what I am talking about," retorted the customer, "and you can take it from me that my children won't put up a boller when I say it's bed time but will trot right off to bed."

"It certainly amuses me to hear you rave," laughed the barber genially, "but I have heard folks talk like you before."

"Well," retorted the customer, "a man don't have to have children to know how they should be brought up properly."

"So you think," replied the barber, "but take it from me when you are married and have a family of your own you won't carry out the words of wisdom you let drop when you were younger."

"I won't, won't I," replied the customer.

"I know a friend of mine," continued the barber, not noticing the interruption, "who had most decided opinions on the way he would bring up his family. The other day I called at the house to see him, as I heard he was sick."

"He is the proud father of two children, and when I was there he tried to make them behave but they were climbing all over the furniture and everything else. They got my new lid that I gave $7 for and one of them sat on it with disastrous results."

"And all he said was: 'Now, Willie, you ought not to have sat on the new man's hat,' but that did not reimburse me for the cold case the hat had stood me in."

"Oh, well," interrupted the customer, "that man was an exception. I bet I would have more control over my children."

"Huh," grunted the barber. He added later "we'll see."

THE STROLLER.*WEST PARK.

West Park, Oct. 2.—The rector of Ascension Church, the Rev. Richard C. Searling, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last to a large and attentive congregation. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers by the Altar Guild, which has been so faithful in decorating the church through the summer months.

The Rev. Dr. Alexander Cummings, rector of Christ Church, Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Cummings, Miss Emma C. Larsen, Miss Dorothy Mason and Miss Hannah Axelrod of Staatsburgh and Miss Nellie O'Brien of West Park were dinner guests at Ascension rectory on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Luckey of Poughkeepsie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Schiele. On the same day also Mrs. Walden of Poughkeepsie had guests at her mountain bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Connor and Miss Ada Connor were guests of Paul M. Terpening at the camp.

Miss Helen Smith made a brief visit recently at her summer home, Heartsease.

Miss Ella Ackert of Highland spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ackert.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ackert are moving to Clintondale this week as Mr. Ackert has work at the cold storage plant.

The Rev. William M. Downey of Brookline is expected for services at Ascension Church next Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Richard C. Searling are very busy packing their goods preparatory to shipment to Saratoga Springs next Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Searling expect to remain in West Park until about October 10.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Oct. 2.—A letter received by Mrs. Edward Ashton from Mrs. Elsie Manning of Brooklyn states that her mother, Mrs. Charles Manning, is quite well this fall. She goes to church occasionally, reads, knits and does little things about the house to occupy her time. Her many friends and former neighbors will be glad to hear from her and pleased to know that she is in such good health.

Mrs. S. E. Mott returned from her visit to Newburgh on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward Ashton and Mrs. Emma Richardson were guests of Mrs. Amy Stealey on Wednesday.

Thirty-four persons from this village attended the Union League meeting held at the Highland M. E. Church on Friday evening of last week. The majority of these were members of the Esopus League and the rest were visitors. All were well pleased with the program of the evening. The music, led by Mr. Wilson, was inspiring and the address of Rev. Forrest Edwards of Modena was listened to with much interest, his theme being "The Temptation of Jesus from the Mount." At Richard of Clintondale, president of the union, presided and the secretary, J. P. Cummings, read the minutes of the last meeting, which was held at Modena May 14. The meeting was awarded to Esopus, the theme having 264 points.

Clintondale was second, having 222 points. A short record followed the last time session. When the Esopus League was visited by a group of Esopus League members and their wives and children after their return from the Esopus League, they were told that they had been pleasantly entertained by the Esopus and Chapter.

YOM KIPPUR BEGINS TODAY

On Saturday, October 4, the Jews will observe Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. This holy day is the most sacred and important in the Jewish calendar and is kept solemnly as a day of fasting and prayer by all the Jews of the world. It begins at sunset Friday night, October 3, and ends with sundown on the following day.

The Day of Atonement brings home with great emphasis and force the doctrine of sin and repentance, which is the basic principle of all religions. Just as the birth of the almighty spirit marked the point of departure between man and animal, so the development of the doctrine of repentance marks a turning point in the history of the human race. Judaism has canonized this moment of history which saw the birth of new hope for human progress.

Judaism holds that man has the God-given power of repentance. Fate plays no part in man's life. The Day of Atonement gives eloquent testimony to this fundamental doctrine of Judaism, since it visualizes the fact that the doors of repentance are ever open.

The Day of Atonement is the supreme holy day of the Jewish religion. It touches the heart of all the Jews and exercises upon them an influence unapproached by any of their other important holy days. It is, above all others, the one day on which they lay aside their earthly affairs in order to spend a day of devotion in the house of God amid fasting and prayer.

Day of Atonement services will be held at Temple Emanuel at 7:30 tonight and 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rabbi Brav will preach tonight on "The Significance of Atonement." "Micah's Message" will be the subject of the sermon on Saturday morning. In the afternoon, during the memorial service, "I Am a Hebrew."

EVENING COURSE IN MATHEMATICS

The basic principles of algebra, plane geometry and trigonometry are to be taught. This will be a twelve week course. The Central Young Men's Christian Association considers itself fortunate in being able to secure M. C. Moseman as instructor. He has taught mathematics for five and a half years and had experience in teaching and supervision of mathematics at the training school in Camp Taylor, Kentucky. His particular task there was the teaching of artillery officers.

This course appeals to carpenters, contractors, mechanics, also young men who desire to strengthen themselves in mathematics and expect to use these subjects. The young man who is preparing for college or technical school is going to be directly assisted as the instructor is a college and professional graduate and knows the need of each group of men.

Applications will be received beginning Monday evening, October 6th, at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Moseman will be at the Y. M. C. A. building to make definite plans in detail for the winter course. Every man who is anxious to promote himself along these lines should plan to be present. The tuition fee will be reasonable, only enough to cover the cost of the course.

Further instructions can be secured at the Y. M. C. A. building.

SERIES SHIFTS TO CHICAGO

Comiskey Park Will be Scene of Struggle Between Reds and White Sox—Letter Taking Defeat Like Real Fellows.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 3.—The scene of the world's series struggle between the Reds and White Sox shifted to Comiskey Park today where the third, fourth and fifth games are to be played.

Flushed with victory in the first two games and confident that they can clean up the Sox in straight games now, the Reds arrived this morning full of ginger. They came like conquering heroes and so far they are all of that.

The Sox trailed the Reds into town determined to fight tooth and nail to offset the triumph of Pat Moran's sensational ball club. They will face the Moran man on the south side this afternoon with their backs to the wall and they mean to fight to a finish.

The Sox deserve credit for fighting. They are a game bunch and have taken their two defeats like real fellows. They stood in their positions in the first game like helpless kittens while the Reds murdered the offering of Eddie Cicotte. In the second game they saw Lefty Williams contribute to the second victory of the Redville aggregation by handing out bases on balls in the fourth inning. Strangely enough the fourth inning is a big inning for the Reds. It has been so in the first two games.

The vaunted hitting power of the Sox in the pinches has been noticeable for its absence. They have felled well and have fought well but they have withered under the scorching wizardry of Reuther and Salter, failing to come through with badly needed hits. The Sox cannot say they had no chance to win yesterday's game, for in at least two innings they could have made the Reds reel their power had they delivered hits in the pinches.

Chicago fans, taken back with surprise at the treatment accorded their idols by the Redville gang, will turn out in force today to see how it is done and to root for a reversal of form on the part of the southsiders. Comiskey Park seats 39,000 people and it is predicted that every seat will be full when the teams square away for the third game.

There is but one thing that may be said of the series to date—it is a wonderful and brilliant triumph for a great and game bunch of players.

The Reds deserve all the credit. Some Sox sympathizers may say that Moran's men got the breaks in the second game. But it is the rule that the breaks go to the stronger team and the Reds have proven their worth.

Gleason will probably send Cicotte back into the fray tomorrow. He believes the master of the "shine" ball will win if he faces the Reds again. So, should the Sox rally and take today's game with Kerr, or one of the other hurlers on the mound, Gleason figures he can even matters up with the Moran men.

The confidence that comes with victory, however, will give the Reds a worthy advantage.

Eddie Rosen poured his compensation in center field for the Reds with such effect yesterday that the second game of the world series fell to Chicago by a score of 4 to 2. Rosen started the Red rush upon the White Sox and also stopped a Sox counter-attack by the Chicagoans. In the fourth inning Kopf dragged a three-bagger into center field, scoring two runs. One run had already been knocked in by Rosen. In the sixth Rosen scored on Moran's single to left. The White Sox gained their two runs in the seventh.

WILSON RESPONDS TO TREATMENT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Although issuing a bulletin that "the president's condition is unchanged," Rear Admiral Carey T. Grayson this afternoon let it be known that President Wilson is for the first time responding to treatment. He explained that up to the present time the president has chafed continually because he was not allowed to attend to the affairs of state, but now he is beginning to "accept the inevitable" and given himself up to complete rest that is necessary for his complete recovery.

"The president's mind is very active and it has been hard to keep him away from thoughts of his work," Dr. Grayson explained. The president will be kept in bed until he has gained more strength. It also was stated he has suffered a slight loss of appetite and this has had an effect upon his condition. Dr. Grayson conversed over the phone with Dr. F. X. Darcum at Philadelphia, and stated that the Philadelphia physician would be ready to come at once to Washington at any time it might be felt his presence was needed. Dr. Grayson also took occasion to deny that the president has been subjected to an X-ray examination, or that any was contemplated. He reiterated that the president was in no immediate danger but that he was "skating on thin ice" and that he, Dr. Grayson, would take no chances.

Train's Miraculous Escape.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Oct. 3.—A railway train that was being operated in defiance of the strike, had a miraculous escape from being wrecked with loss of life when it crashed into a pile of rails that had been placed on the tracks near Swindon, in Wiltshire, today.

GERARD ON HEALTH INSURANCE

Here's what James W. Gerard, former American ambassador to Germany has to say on the subject of the Compulsory Health Insurance as he saw it in Germany.

"The much admired workmen's insurance in Germany, against sickness, unemployment and old age has tied the worker to the job as the seal of old was tied to the soil. The government disposes of his wages to so large an extent that he has not enough left to strike out for himself, and if by any chance he does break loose, he loses all his past payments. Doesn't sound good to Americans, does it?"

BOXING BOUTS TO BE HELD

Tuesday Evening at Griffith's Hall at First Smoker and Entertainment of Kingston Athletic Club.

The first smoker and entertainment of the Kingston Athletic Club will be held Tuesday evening at Griffith's Hall on lower Hasbrouck avenue, and some fast boxing bouts will be staged. There will also be good music and vaudeville that night. The smoker is for members only.

Vincent Coffey, the local boxer, and Kid Goodman of New York will mix it in the main boxing exhibition, going eight rounds.

Willie Rose of Newburgh will box Harry McGree of Newark, six rounds. Fighting Mason will box four rounds with William Roedel, both are from here.

Kid Thomas and Kid Broad, both of New York, will step four rounds, and Kid Oalim of Albany and Bob Ryan of Utica will box four rounds.

Edward Cashin of this city will be the official referee at the bouts.

This is the first in a number of years that an athletic organization has been formed to take up boxing in Kingston, and undoubtedly the club membership will be largely increased. Membership tickets may be obtained at various stores about town.

That evening Tom Dolan and Sam Affron will be among the vocalists present and sing.

DAWSON WILL TELL THE TRUTH

That German propagandists are still at work, here as elsewhere, will be revealed in the interesting lecture by Lieut. Coningsby Dawson, the Soldier Novelist, just returned from overseas and who has had most interesting interviews in the New York papers, to be given here Friday, October 24, 1919, at the high school, under the auspices of the Kingston Chapter, School Women's Clubs of the Hudson valley. Besides having seen much service at the front as an artillery officer with the Canadian forces, he has recently visited the occupied part of Germany and in his subject, "Remaking the World," he will tell what he saw there and what he felt and thought about it.

Being a man of intelligence, the lieutenant, unlike some other soldiers, lamentably and amazingly numerous, was not misled by the fact that in France, before the armistice, life was a continuity of hardship and deadly peril, while in the Rhine provinces, after the armistice, it was entirely comfortable and safe.

From the difference, for the same reason, he did not conclude that the Germans are a better and kinder people than the French.

On the contrary, he was angered and disgusted that defeated people should show no signs of repentance, or even of regret, for what had happened—that, having been savage while strong, they had turned servile when weak, and that, having lost the war, they were trying to win the peace by trick and devices in moral quality on a par with the use of poison gas, the sinking of ships without leaving a trace behind, and the enslavement of civilian populations.

Lieut. Dawson did not view with satisfaction the absence of any marks of war in the German towns and villages. He contrasted them with what he saw in France and Belgium.

He did not see racial superiority in the smiles that Germans gave him in their efforts to make his visit pleasant, in their failure to remind him in any way that he was one of the men who had wrecked the German state and foiled the hopes and ambitions of its subjects.

While he found in and around Coblenz such recognition of accomplished facts, he found nothing at all of repentance, nor of ideas, nor principles. He resented manifestations of friendship that had no friendship behind them, and he refused to believe that all was well where he knew that all was ill.

While some people may charge Lieut. Dawson with lack of the magnanimity that victors should show to the vanquished, intimating that he feels and preaches "hate," yet anybody who has read the lieutenant's books and articles about the war, knows, or should know, that he is given to underestimating as little as any man alive, that he would be as ready as any to forget and forgive when he deems it would not be a denial of justice as well as abstention from inflicting it.

This same admission will be charged for this lecture, and the proceeds will be used by the Schoolwomen's Club to secure medical care for such public school children as have defective eyes, or both of other physical ailments.

ALLGERTVILLE
